VA Community Care Medical Policies describe standard VA health care benefit for services and procedures that community providers may recommend as necessary for a Veteran. Prior to providing care, providers should use the Community Care Medical Policies as a reference when determining if a Veteran meets VA clinical criteria. When additional services are requested, Community Care Medical Policies will be used to determine approval by a clinical reviewer. Additional Service Information

Request for Services (RFS)
A Request for Services (RFS) is a provider-generated request for new or additional care outside the scope of the current approved referral/authorization. Provider should always submit the RFS directly to the authorizing VAMC, preferably via the HSRM portal. Providers should always submit an RFS on the same day it is determined it's needed and before delivering care, unless it is emergent care. In that case, the RFS can be submitted simultaneously.

- How to Submit an RFS
VA prefers providers submit an RFS via the HSRM portal, available on the VA's website
- Go to the VA Storefront at <https://www.va.gov/COMMUNITYCARE/providers/Care-Coordination.asp#RFS>
    - Navigate to the link to the RFS form at the bottom of the section

Medical Records and Documents Requirements

Medical Records and documentation are required for all provider services. Providers are required to submit Medical documentation directly to the authorizing VAMC, preferably via upload to HSRM.
